Everything good with you guys? Hope you are doing ok. Not too much new to report with properties and other assets, but we are getting a few more looks at the Condo since I adjusted the price a bit. Should have new accounts open this week so we can pay some bills and reduce some costs on things. Also working on life insurance to hopefully get that resolved and get some distributions made.

Still at the office now, can't seem to get out much before 8 every night. Pizza one night?? Let me know and I'll coordinate with the boys.
