

From: "eib" <alps@netline.net>
To: "Christopher C. Wheeler (E-mail)" <cwheeler@proska...>
Date: 6/1/99 6:46am
Subject: FW: iviewit, inc.

Don worked at Goldman Sachs with my brother-in-law Jeff Friedstein and his father Sheldon.

-----Original Message-----

From: dg_kane [mailto:dg_kane@email.msn.com]
Sent: Tuesday, June 01, 1999 12:11 AM
To: eib
Subject: Re: iviewit, inc.

I was out of town on Sunday and Monday and just got your various e mails. Jeff and I are meeting Tuesday morning to review the status of our discussions. My preliminary thoughts are to get a royalty agreement put in place for you and your family. If you have not structured something we should get the law firm started on that piece. It gives you a priority return ahead of other shareholders and is customary in these situations. Jeff and I have had discussions with another source of technology contacts and management advice and will try to bring focus to the discussions with Hassan and others this week. There are several different licensing revenue models which will work here depending on the end users objectives. We need to get started on the templates of those agreements. I look forward to meeting you and your family. Please feel free to call me at work or home with any questions which arise.

Don Kane

-----Original Message-----

From: eib <alps@netline.net>
To: Kenneth Rubenstein (E-mail) <krubenstein@proskauer.com>; Christopher C. Wheeler (E-mail) <cwheeler@proskauer.com>; Jefferey Friedstein (E-mail) <friedstein@msn.com>; Jefferey Friedstein (E-mail) <friedstein@msn.com>; Donald G. Kane II (E-mail) <dg_kane@msn.com>
Date: Sunday, May 30, 1999 1:47 PM
Subject: FW: iviewit, inc.

Ken Rubenstein, the guy who say's he know's nothing, like the nazi Klink in Hogan's Hero. This is months after Ken says he merely referred the company to Joao.

>

>

>-----Original Message-----

>From: Hassan Miah [mailto:hmiah@xingtech.com]
>Sent: Sunday, May 30, 1999 1:19 PM
>To: 'eib'
>Subject: RE: iviewit, inc.

>

>

>Not yet. I will work out a meeting time over the next couple of days. I >was looking at the profile of Ken Rubinstein at Proskauer, very impressive!
>Is he the person that reviewed your patent application? Ken appears to be >the person behind setting up the MPEG patent pool. Xing is a licensee under >this. Do you mind if I e-mail Ken questions about the nature of the patent?

Oh yeah - Don, Jeff and Shelly, although some are family, now try and claim they don't know anything and did not help in the formation of the inventions and companies. Yet, Goldman Sachs has financed 100's of internet companies that all use our stuff and Don split off and started scores of companies using our inventions and sadly and regrettably the company must put them in with others who have stolen off with the ideas forgetting to pay the inventors their royalties. Their argument very weak when Jeff is an inventor and Don one of the largest investors and guy who helped Proskauer form the corporations.

Click this box to see the letters that Rosman then drafted on behalf of Hassan to Wheeler and Rubenstein of Proskauer, the guys who in deposition state they know nothing about patents and that Iviewit is a failed dot com. These letters are direct contradiction to their statements that they know nothing about the patents and that Proskauer never opined on the technologies. Making them big fat liars, perjurers and thieves.

Kevin O'Donnell and Sky Dylan Dayton were Earthlink founders brought in by Richard Rosman for investment who hired Hassan to check out the technologies.

>Also, I have not heard from Goldman.

>

>This project is very exciting to me. I keep thinking about the possibilities. Hopefully you, Kevin and I can meet over the next couple of weeks so we can accelerate our activities. How are you doing setting up the >demo to view over the Internet? My home number is 805-594-0292 if you want to talk.

>

>Hassan

>

>> -----Original Message-----

>> From: eib [SMTP:alps@netline.net]

>> Sent: Saturday, May 29, 1999 8:24 PM

>> To: hmiah@xingtech.com

>> Subject: iviewit, inc.

>>

>> <?XML:NAMESPACE PREFIX = O />

>>

>> Hassan,

>>

>> Have you heard any news from Kevin? Hope all is going well.

>>

>> Eliot

>

>