Biography:

Steven Krane joined Proskauer upon his graduation from the New York University School of Law in 1981, taking a year off in 1984-85 to serve as law clerk to Judge Judith S. Kaye of the New York Court of Appeals. He became a partner in the Litigation and Dispute Resolution Department in 1989. Although a general commercial litigator, Steven has considerable experience in representing sports leagues and teams in a wide variety of matters, and also maintains a practice concentration in the field of legal ethics and professional responsibility.

Sports Law

Sports leagues and teams frequently need advice on a wide variety of issues, and Steven has been consulted by them on questions relating to, among other things, antitrust law, trademark law and labor relations. Over the past several years, Steven has represented the National Basketball Association, National Hockey League, Major League Baseball, Major League Soccer and the Women's National Basketball Association in a broad range of litigated and non-litigated matters. Among the more prominent matters in which Steven has been involved were the NBA's successful challenge to Oregon's basketball lottery, the Bridgeman and Williams antitrust lawsuits that led to the NBA's 1988 and 1994 collective bargaining agreements, the NBA players' 1995 campaign to "decertify" their union, and the 1991 arbitration concerning Patrick Ewing's claimed status as an unrestricted free agent.

A few months ago, Steven brought to a successful conclusion a racketeering case brought against the NHL by an alleged class of former players against the League and Alan Eagleson, the former Executive Director of the players' union. The players contended that the NHL and its team owners permitted Eagleson to divert money from the players' union for his own personal benefit in exchange for concessions in collective bargaining. Steven is currently defending Major League Soccer in an antitrust class action challenging the terms and conditions under which professional soccer players are employed. Major League Soccer is not a traditional, franchise-based sports league, but is structured as a single entity. The litigation, which challenges the structure of the league, has far-reaching implications for all sports leagues.

He has also been involved in successfully lobbying the U.S. Congress, which led to the Professional and Amateur Sports Protection Act of 1992 -- the law that prohibits most sports betting in the United States -- and the Governor of Oregon who, in response to legal arguments, withdrew his support for sports betting at gambling casinos in the state.

Professional Responsibility/Ethics

It has been said that "sometimes even lawyers need lawyers." Steven has been active in representing lawyers and law firms in a variety of professional matters, such as defending them against charges before grievance and disciplinary committees, representing them in disputes concerning admission to the bar, defending them in cases charging that they participated in securities fraud committed by their clients, as well as rendering opinions and otherwise counseling them on a broad range of ethical issues. He has served as a litigation consultant and has been an expert witness on a variety of issues such as conflicts of interest and solicitation of clients by lawyers leaving a law firm. Steven has written extensively on issues of professional responsibility. One of his major articles, "When Lawyers Represent Their Adversaries: Conflicts of Interest Arising out of the Lawyer-Lawyer Relationship," was published in the Hofstra Law Review in 1995 and has been relied upon by the American Law Institute's Restatement of the Law Governing Lawyers.

Steven currently serves as Chair of the New York State Bar Association's Committee on Standards of Attorney Conduct, the successor to the Special Committee to Review the Code of Professional Responsibility. These groups conducted a five-year project of reviewing and proposing a series of amendments to the ethical rules governing lawyers, which were adopted by the New York courts in 1999. He is a member at large of that Association's Executive Committee and a Fellow of the New York Bar Foundation. He served as a member of the NYSBA Committee on Professional Ethics for four years (1990-94). On June 1, 2001, he took office as President of the NYSBA, the youngest person ever to hold that post.

Steven spent nine of the 11 years from 1985 to 1996 associated in various capacities with the Committee on Professional and Judicial Ethics of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York, most recently serving a three-year term as the Committee Chair. During his tenure, the City Bar Ethics Committee published an unprecedented 35 formal opinions on a broad range of topics of general interest to the bar. Additionally, he has been a member of the New York State Office of Court Administration Task Force on Attorney Professionalism and Conduct since 1996, and was elected to membership in the American Law Institute in 1993. Steven served as a Hearing Panel Chair for both the Departmental Disciplinary Committee for the First Judicial Department and the Committee on Grievances of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York. He also previously served as a special prosecutor for the First Department Disciplinary Committee.

Steven has taught and lectured extensively in both of his fields of concentration. He developed and taught a course in sports law at the Georgia Institute of Technology, and for several years taught legal ethics at the Columbia University School of Law as a member of its adjunct faculty. He is a frequent lecturer on professional responsibility and on antitrust and other issues affecting the sports industry.
