Krishna - per our prior discussions and your retaining Alan Weisberg for the Company, please advise what your strategy is for this filing. The Company is confident in your choice under our agreement of Alan as our counsel but we got a call that you had somehow told him to hold up on work. After our discussions with Alan last week and the transfer you arranged of our patent files, we have waited for his decision regarding these upcoming deadlines of today. Please have Alan and your firm outline in writing what you are doing as we are very concerned about the filing falling through the crack and that would put the shareholders at immediate risk.

Either way, we are sure this is a minor oversight but with the due date today and you in charge we want to insure that you have this urgent matter under control. Please call me immediately with your resolve to Alan.
