Subject: Mitch Huhem death

Dear Sargent Rick McAfee,

I am writing about Mitch Huhem. I understand his death investigation remains open. My husband I met him personally and professionally trained under Mitch Huhem at two events within the last year. The last time we saw him was in Fort Lauderdale, Florida back in January of 2016. At that event, two of his sisters and his mother were all in attendance. He had a clear love and connection with his family which we witnessed. He clearly adored his mother. Not only was he the most positive person I know, he also had beliefs that would have made it very unlikely that he would have taken his own life. He was a man of great christian beliefs. If he were to find out something about the Simon Bernstein estate who previously owned the Lion Head Lane home, that he felt was an injustice, my concern is he may have tried to make it right and maybe that got him killed. I had heard there was paperwork in the home regarding the Bernstein estate. This is the type of person he was. I understand not everyone has that value system, but that was his. I hope you look into his relationship with his wife, how they originally met and the dates the life insurance policies and will were changed by his attorney Pino, friend of his wife.

I hope you take this into consideration as you look into this case. I know there were records from the Bernstein estate that were found at 7020 Lion Head Lane, Boca Grande. I am haunted by this. Assuming he killed himself would be the easy answer, but I am afraid there is much more to this. I wanted you to know that it is unlikely that he would have killed himself, or left his minor children out of his will. He talked about them all the time. We did a 12 week class which he led over the phone with a very small group and he would share stories about growing up, his family, children etc. I know you are doing your best. I pray the truth comes out, whatever it is.

Sincerely,

Wayne & Lynette Henk

Subject: Re: Mitchell B. Huhem

Sgt. McAfee,

Per the request of Mitch Huhem's sister, I am writing this message to provide you with some insight into the Mitch I knew. However, I doubt Serena (his sister) would approve of what I have to say. I have no desire to speak ill of the dead, but will tell you that Mitch had a lot of people fooled for many reasons and for many years. I was a close associate of Mitch's and a close friend of the family. I worked with him and his first wife, Patricia, for years on an intimate level creating personal design pieces for their family's life events and celebrations. As such, I had a unique view of and insight into their family, and Mitch in particular since he was the one who arranged for me to do the work.

Mitch had everyone believing he was a very sincere and devoted Christian who highly valued honesty and integrity and family. However, Mitch was also a master showman. Even in his most spiritually touted talks and presentations, anyone who really looked closely and beyond his hair weave and polished teeth could see it was all for show. Mitch was rarely sincere in anything he did. His sister has accused Mitch's in-laws (Deborah's family) of being sociopathic in their actions since his death, but I can personally attest that Mitch displayed more sociopathic characteristics than anyone I've met. I was always torn about that because I cared deeply for him and his family. I grieved for weeks following the news of his death. Mitch had a good heart, even if his messed-up head got in the way. On a side note, I will say that if you knew his mother and had any insight into who she is, you'd understand why Mitch turned out the way he did. But that's a whole other story.

I've read many of the news stories and spec articles about Mitch's death and those arguing about whether or not it was a suicide or murder. While Mitch loved his family, he was also deeply troubled and at odds with a life he had chosen to abandon, including a faith he had, for years, professed his undying devotion to. He made some horrible choices and money not only controlled him, but defined who he was not only in his eyes, but in all those of his most loyal fans. In fact, I've witnessed his very own family (parents and siblings) be blinded by the wealth and unable to see Mitch for who he truly was—a man who struggled with the "little-man" complex and wanted to be bigger than life so he could feel better about himself. For Mitch, it was all about keeping up appearances. But what made it more dire for him is that it was those appearances that he felt defined his self-worth. There are many examples I could provide of his behavior that support all of what I'm saying, but I'm hoping you get the message just from what's here. I have no desire to talk down about Mitch, especially now that he's not to defend himself. But I think it's important to have a voice of reality added to all those chiming in on what a saint and amazing example he was.

If someone were to ask me if I thought Mitch was murdered or committed suicide, I would say I could believe both. Mitch had a lot of dark emotion in him and I could easily see him taking his own life. But I could also see how he would have cheated people and made enemies—some of them angry enough to kill him. I will say, given what I do know about Deborah's actions, I wouldn't be surprised at all if there wasn't something more going on there that needs to be uncovered. I'm finding hard to believe she's innocent in any of this, regardless of how Mitch died. Mitch made some very wrong choices in his pursuit of money and power and he hurt a lot of people. So, it's not all that unlikely that someone may have wanted to pay him back in an unkindly manner. My gut feeling is that he probably got involved in something shady and was about to be exposed and decided the only way out was to take his own life. But, fortunately, I'm not the one who has to find the answers or make that final determination. My heart goes out to you in your work on this case, as well as others I'm sure are just as troubling. I only hope anything I've offered here may be of some help and not a waste of your time. I would like to ask, if at all possible, that you not share what I've said here with any of his family. I have no desire to create ill will or kindle any bonfire Serena may still be stoking. Thank you.

I wish you all the best in your search for the truth and hope you will find peace along the way with whatever you find.

Thank you for your time,
Regi Milan

IN THE KITCHEN. DEBORAH SHOWED ME THAT THEY WERE CURRENTLY SLEEPING IN A BEDROOM ON THE SECOND FLOOR BUT IT WAS NOT THE MASTER BEDROOM. DEBORAH STATED THAT THEY DID NOT FEEL COMFORTABLE SLEEPING IN THE MASTER BEDROOM DUE TO THE BLACK MOLD. DEBORAH ALSO SHOWED ME MITCHELL'S OFFICE /WORK AREA WHICH WAS LOCATED IN A HALLWAY AREA OUTSIDE OF THE MASTER BEDROOM. I LOOKED THROUGH MITCHELL'S PAPERWORK AND FOUND MULTIPLE NOTES THAT APPEARED TO BE PART OF PRESENTATIONS; HOWEVER, I DID NOT FIND ANYTHING SUGGESTING SUICIDE. I LOOKED IN THE REST OF THE HOUSE AND DID NOT FIND ANYTHING SIGNIFICANT TO MY INVESTIGATION.

ONCE MEDICAL EXAMINER INVESTIGATOR RUIZ ARRIVED, CRIME SCENE INVESTIGATOR J. MARTIN ID 3984 AND I EXAMINED THE WESTERN GARAGE IN GREATER DETAIL. THE GARAGE WAS FULL OF HOUSEHOLD ITEMS. THE MATTRESS APPEARED TO HAVE BLOOD LIKE SUBSTANCE ON THE SIDE CLOSEST TO THE DECEDENT. THE MATTRESS APPEARED TO HAVE PARTIALLY FALLEN OVER THE DECEDENT. I NOTICED A BLOOD LIKE SUBSTANCE SPRAYED ON THE CEILING DIRECTLY ABOVE THE AREA WHERE THE DECEDENT LAID. I ALSO NOTICED BLOOD LIKE SUBSTANCE AND PIECES OF HAIR ON TOP OF THE GARAGE DOOR. BEING THAT THE GARAGE WAS SO FULL OF ITEMS, MEDICAL EXAMINER INVESTIGATOR RUIZ HAD ELITE REMOVAL SERVICE MOVE THE BODY OUT OF THE GARAGE SO THAT WE COULD EXAMINE IT IN GREATER DETAIL. ONCE THE BODY WAS MOVED I NOTICED A BLACK SHOTGUN UNDERNEATH THE DECEDENT. THE GUN HAD TO BE MANEUVERED OUT OF THE DECEDENT'S GRASP. AT THIS POINT THE TRAUMA TO THE DECEDENT'S FACE RENDERED HIM UNRECOGNIZABLE. I DID NOTICE THAT THE DECEDENT WAS WEARING A WEDDING BAND. THE WEDDING BAND WAS REMOVED AND PLACED IN A SECURE PLACE SO THAT THE NEXT OF KIN COULD RECOVER IT. THE SHOTGUN RECOVERED WAS A 12 GAUGE MOSSBERG SHOTGUN. A BOX TO THAT SHOTGUN WAS ALSO LOCATED IN THE GARAGE. THE SERIAL NUMBER ON THE GUN MATCHED THE SERIAL NUMBER ON THE BOX. THE SERIAL NUMBER OF THE 12 GAUGE SHOTGUN WAS U666633 AND THE MODEL OF THE SHOTGUN WAS 500. THE SHOTGUN WAS COVERED IN BLOOD LIKE SUBSTANCE. I MANIPULATED THE SHOTGUN AND TURNED THE SAFETY ON. I EJECTED ONE SPENT SHOTGUN SHELL OUT OF THE EJECTION PORT AND REMOVED SEVERAL UNFIRED SHOTGUN SHELLS OUT OF THE TUBE. THE GUN WAS TURNED OVER TO CRIME SCENE INVESTIGATOR MARTIN TO BE PROCESSED. CRIME SCENE INVESTIGATOR MARTIN DOCUMENTED THE SCENE AND SECURED ANY EVIDENCE; FOR SPECIFIC DETAILS PLEASE REFER TO HER REPORT. ELITE REMOVAL TRANSPORTED THE DECEDENT TO THE MEDICAL EXAMINER'S OFFICE FOR AUTOPSY. BEING THAT DEBORAH LEFT THE SCENE I SECURED THE HOUSE THE BEST I COULD AND NOTIFIED SECURITY.

CONFIDENTIAL:

Serena,

Ok. Try not to get despaired by this. I am not surprised by any of it. I would NOT write back to him AT ALL UNTIL you get the Actual Records.

We KNOW already how Weak their Investigation was, No one ever called me including Detective Perez and know they can not have the proper details of what was happening when Mitch took the trip to Orlando the Saturday before.

Wait till you get everything.

Talk soon.

I am sending this to just the members of Mitch's family that I have previously communicated with via email.

I wanted to let you know the investigation into Mitch Huhem's death has been completed by both the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office and The Medical Examiner's Office of Palm Beach County.

Numerous interviews were conducted by Det. Max Perez concerning Mitch's death. After analyzing those interviews, the physical evidence that had been collected, and actual autopsy of Mitch, his death is being ruled, by both agencies, as a suicide.

We received numerous emails and calls from people stressing what a good person Mitch was. We have no reason to doubt that, but most of those emails did not contain any substance concerning why his death took place.

We looked into the "Lion Head" real estate transaction and there is nothing with that transaction that can be directly tied back to Mitch's death, no matter what local "gossip websites/blogs" may have written about.

In regards to Deborah's actions before and after Mitch's death, while those actions on their own merits appear concerning and "cold" in nature, but in the scope of this investigation they did not rise to a criminal in nature.

Below is the contact information for both the Sheriff's Office and the Medical Examiner's Office should you choose to request copies of both agencies investigative reports:

- 1) The Medical Examiner's Office of Palm Beach County

3126 Gun Club Road, West Palm Beach, FL 33406

561-688-4575

Case Number 16-0281

2) Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office – Central Records Division

3228 Gun Club Rd. West Palm Beach, FL 33406

561-688-3140

Case Number 16-042460

If you do make a request to obtain the investigative reports, ask for “everything” in the case file. If you ask for this, you will get the photos and all written reports. I would stress that if you obtain the photos, please take every caution when viewing because some images are graphic in nature.

I would also like make you aware during the course of our investigation our agency received several inquiries for our investigative report from the “gossip websites/blogs” that have written previously about Mitch’s death, with our case now being closed I will assume they will be requesting those reports again and will place the information out on their websites. I cannot stop this so I wanted to make you aware of this possibly happening since our investigation is now closed.

Unfortunately, there is one big question about Mitch death we will never be able to answer. That question is “why”. Sometimes in these cases, we cannot answer this, which is why we depend on physical evidence and our investigation. This is all done to help us in trying to bring some sort of closure to you all.

If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate in contacting me. I want to again, extend my condolences to all of Mitch’s family and friends with his premature death.

Subject: Confidential -- 7020 Lions Head Lane & Lions Head Land Trust

Eliot:

You are interfering the sale of 7020 Lions Head Lane ("Property") and further damaging your children and others. The only people who suffer harm from your actions are your father's grandchildren, including the three born to you.

The people "helping" you, like William Elwood "Bill" Stansbury are not helping you. Mr. Stansbury became your father's enemy when he sued him in 2012, before your father died. Mr. Stansbury now claims that your father committed fraud (meaning he is calling your father a liar) and his goals are to maximize his recovery against the Estate, which means less money for the beneficiaries. That you and he seem so closely aligned is troubling; even more so when Kevin Hall stated that he received the Lions Head deed from Mr. Stansbury. That would put Mr. Stansbury at the start of everything you are doing regarding Lions Head.

As you know, the Court found that there was no evidence to support the outrageous allegations you have tossed around against your mother's chosen Trustee, Ted Bernstein. Your fantastical "claims" and "allegations" have been rejected; you should honor the Court's ruling. You also should honor the Court's ruling approving the sale of the Lions Head property. Instead, you persist with nonsense posted on the Internet about all of these issues.

As to Lions Head, at this time we are sending this information solely to you. If it gets on the Internet, you alone are the source. Please don't do that. Moreover, please remove and cause Ms. Cox to remove everything you guys have posted and cease all of what you, Kevin Hall, Cox and others may already have done.

You and/or your team of "investigator" and "bloggers" pulled from the public records a recorded deed and traced the ownership to Lions Head Land Trust ("Trust"). That is the owning entity, and its Trustee is "Lions Head Land Trust, Inc." ("LHLT, Inc."). You contacted the incorporator of LFLT, Inc., despite the injunction, knowing she was involved in the transaction as part of the buyer. You provided us with proof of this through a 40 minute tape-recorded conversation in which you are clearly speaking to directly to the incorporator. So there is no doubt what we allege is accurate.

PLEASE PURGE YOUR CONTEMPT BY CEASING WHAT YOU ARE DOING AND DELETING THE LIONS HEAD POSTS.

Information on the buyer, including the HUD-1, will be provided to the beneficiaries after the hearing for the court to consider appropriate confidentiality limitations to respect the privacy of the buyers. This was a condition of the buyers and their counsel once they became aware of your cyber-harassment tactics. Your efforts over the past two weeks have accomplished nothing other than (i) confirming that the buyer's concerns were legitimate; and (ii) causing additional damages to the beneficiaries, including your children, beyond the $238,000 in damages caused by the delays you created.

As you might imagine, due to your involvement and what you have been doing to people, the buyer wanted nothing to do with you and the nonsense you post on the internet. The biggest surprise is that the buyer would close at all, but perhaps they believed you were only angry at your parents for disinheritting you and your brother for being the messenger of that bad news. Certainly, people with the wealth to live in St. Andrews Country Club want nothing to do with you. So the buyer did what many people seeking privacy do, used the Trust to hold title. But you and your team could not honor their wishes for privacy, nor could you comply with the clear directives of the Court.

Your first mention of this was in your 132-page injunction motion filed on the afternoon of February 24th in Illinois (which was immediately denied the next morning), even though the deed was recorded on February 1st. You discovered the publicly known information: The Shirley Bernstein Trust sold the house at 7020 Lions Head Lane for $1.1 million to Lions Head Land Trust, by its Trustee the Lions Head Land Trust, Inc. The purchase and sale contract which the court approved, including the concessions necessitated by your dilatory actions, was redacted to remove the names of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Huhem, the occupants of the home and the beneficiaries of the Lions Head Land Trust they created for privacy purposes.

That is usual, customary and quite commonplace in the sale of million-dollar properties. (Even the home you live is owned by an entity for which you have no ownership or control.) The contract was assigned by the Huhems to a land trust – similar to what your parents did with both the Aragon condo and the St. Andrews home, as well as the home you live in for free (to the detriment of the beneficiaries of the Simon Trust). Many people use land trusts to hold title to real estate. If your comrade Ms. Cox is not aware of the commonplace of such arrangements, perhaps you should question the veracity of her claim that she is "a real estate expert."

LHLT, Inc., the Trustee of the Trust, was formed with an incorporator whose name was identified in Sunbiz records. Neither Ted nor anyone else on your mother's side of this sale knew or needed to know about the buyer. Many corporations are formed by an unaffiliated incorporator, who thereafter has no involvement in the company. This company was formed June 6, 2015, near the expected closing date until you derailed everything with your All Writs Petition.

The Huhems are and have always been the equity holders of Lions Head Land Trust, which qualifies them and them alone to membership in the Club. Any assertion that the Buyer entity is not real or that there is some problem in a transaction reviewed and approved by my client, a title company, and an elite country club board is silly.

In this case, the incorporator was a person named Ochoada. A corporation may be incorporated by anyone (§607.0201), and obviously the buyers used someone other than themselves to try to avoid you. Whoever that person is, she is of no consequence to you except for the fact that your contacting and harassing her may be contempt of the May 6th Order and likely will cost the Trust, and thus your kids, money. You forget that without the efforts of numerous hardworking people, the sale would not occurred and your mothers trust, which will benefit your kids, would not have received the substantial proceeds from the sale. We implore you to remove from the internet and all blogs any mention of Ms. Ochoada and the names of the Buyers.

Ms. Cox also is misinformed as to the registered agent of the land trust. As is customary when creating a new business entity, a registered agent must be designated. Here, LHLT designated ISL, Inc. as registered agent and ISL's address is listed as its corporate address (again, all normal activities). ISL appears to be one of the many companies which routinely does so. (Some of your own now-inactive iViewit companies chose to use CT Corporate Systems and Corp. America for similar services.) Contrary to your research, when one googles "ISL, Inc. at 1540 Glenway" it is an active corporation named Incorporating Services, Ltd, Inc., a Delaware corporation operating nationally and actively registered in Florida. I have never heard of them, but am sure it is just a company which provide incorporating services like one you have used in the past. You would be well served to leave these people alone as well. And again, I am surprised Ms. Cox could not find it and incorrectly claimed it did not exist. ISL, Inc. exists as does LHLT, Inc. and the Trust.

There may be liens on the property before or after closing. They are of no concern to your Mother's Trust because the Buyers accepted title with the liens in place.

There was some property damage requiring repair before closing. The original contract called for an "as is" closing but for your delays. The costs were avoidable if you had not filed the "All Writs", but once the issues were discovered before Shirley's Trust could deliver clear title, we had to deal with them. The Buyer escrowed money greater than the Deposit and full cost of all repairs, and agreed to pay all of the remediation repairs costs other than $25,000, so the buyer handled the repairs. The house was obviously going to close immediately after your appeals were rejected, which occurred around January 8, 2016, and we closed January 15th.

Having the buyer handle the repairs SAVED money because neither Ted nor I had to be involved, and it was going to be the buyer's house. Any unpaid liens are not our concern, because title passed subject to those liens, again saving the Shirley Trust money.

Your Mother's Trust had a large mortgage loan, taken out by your mother and/or father, which was paid off as part of the closing. You alone caused extra interest to accrue on that loan, as part of the $238,000 in damages you caused. As far as this closing, there was no new mortgage that I am aware of.

Yes, there was a title policy. Your actions caused significant attorneys' fees and cost to be unnecessarily incurred obtaining that policy. What would have been routine and simple in any other matter not involving you became a major undertaking, again at the expense of your children and the other beneficiaries. I doubt LHLT has a mortgage, as this was an all-cash deal and the funds were put in escrow last summer.

Title was conveyed by a warranty deed signed by the specific person your mother chose to be the successor trustee of her trust, in accordance with all requirements of Florida law.

Yes, I witnessed the Deed. I watched your mother's Trustee sign it, as he was authorized to do by Court order. You should be thankful for the actions of your mother's trustee and his professionals, not attacking all of them.

That a title insurance policy was issued by a leading company, after there was a FINAL and NON-APPEALABLE ORDER from the Court, tells any real estate expert that this was a routine real estate transaction. Almost routine, except for your interference.

So, now that the sale has closed and you learned the name of the buyer, you might wonder what should you do with the fact that your parents' home was sold to Lions Head Land Trust or that Mr. Huhem has died. The answer should be nothing, for several reasons. Putting aside all of the legal and moral reasons, you should do nothing because that is in the best interests of your children. If you at all care about your children (or care about your nieces and nephews), that is the only rational course of action. Your actions already have cost the beneficiaries collectively $238,000 lost on the sale of the home, and any continued interference will keep costing more money. You certainly should stop interfering with all of the hardworking people who assisted in this transaction, including the lawyers and title company, so that there might be something left to distribute to your kids.

Mr. Hall advised Ms. Ochoada that the house was worth $4 million and someone stole the other $3 million. That is untrue. The Court approved a sale at $1.1 million, representing the fair market value. With all you have put this Trust and the Trustee through, you still seem disillusioned by facts and by the truth. The house sat on the market for nearly 4 years; it was shown nearly 100 times by the international real estate brokerage firm selected by your father, with virtually no potential buyers showing interest; and finally along came someone who liked it enough to offer seven figures, all cash. The final contract price was the highest amount offered by far, and could have closed within a week, generating $238,000 more than ultimately received. The condition of the house was poor at the time your father died, and it remained poor. The house was and is older and appears dated; it in no way resembles the brand new or completely renovated, high-quality houses for sale at higher prices within that community. You had five weeks to find any witness to support your inflated beliefs as to the property's value. Neither you, William Elwood Stansbury, Crysal Cox, Marc Garber, Catherine Proschotska Rogers, nor Michelle M. Mulroney of Venable, nor any of your other "friends" or "supporters" came up with any appraisal or witness to testify in support of you. At the end of those five weeks, you did not produce a single piece of evidence from any source that the house was worth more than the offer we secured. Because the property was sold at the fair market value, by definition and obviously by the facts and circumstances, any continued "ranting and raving" or "investigation" is pointless. You caused a delay for nothing. Your delay cost the beneficiaries close to a quarter million dollars.

If you care about your children, you will stop what you are doing. You are under a court order to stop interfering with this sale:

All beneficiaries and persons subject to the jurisdiction of this Court, including Eliot Bernstein, are ordered to take no action to interfere with or otherwise hinder or delay the sale of the House.

The buyer chose to hold title through a trust for privacy, and obviously in this case, to avoid any interference from you and your crew. By digging into the ownership of the property, calling the incorporator of Lions Head, emailing documents to Crystal Cox, and publicizing this transaction, you have violated and are continuing to violate the pending order. We will enforce all valid court orders and expect you to do so as well, on the penalty of contempt. Your actions also likely will cost the Trust the $25,000 indemnity required as a condition to close in January 2016, as noted in the Motion to Modify Sale, which you opposed:

INJUNCTIVE PROTECTION AND/OR LIMITED INDEMNITY FOR ATTORNEYS' FEES. Seller agrees to file a motion, and participate in any hearing set by the Court, at Seller's sole expense, seeking a permanent injunction after the closing to bar and prevent Eliot Bernstein and those acting in concert with him from having any contact of any kind with the Buyers, including no contact by mail, email or telephone; to forbid Eliot from attempting to learn their identities; to forbid Eliot from publishing or publicizing their identities anywhere in the world, including online or anywhere on any internet website, webpage, blog or otherwise; and to enjoin Eliot from filing any action against Buyers anywhere in the world (the "Injunction"). If successful, thereafter upon request of Buyer, Seller will take necessary and reasonable action to enforce the Injunction.

That language came from the Buyers, who wanted to make sure you never had any contact of any kind with them, for obvious reasons. That means that you shall have no contact by mail, email or telephone; shall never attempt to learn their identities; shall never publish or publicize their identities anywhere in the world. So these current actions by you and your crew, which cannot change the sale, serve only to further damage the beneficiaries. We reserve the right to seek surcharge against the inheritances of your children for the damages you have caused and continue to cause. We will hope to immediately resolve those and other issues with a newly-appointed guardian who will be responsible to protect the interests of your children, from you.

The sale issues are set for hearing on April 8th. If you withdraw all of the internet blogs you posted and agree to keep the information confidential, and cease mentioning the Huhems, Lions Head Land Trust or anyone else affiliated with them, we will provide you with the sale transaction documents and everyone can avoid the need for further hearings.

We have no interest in seeking contempt proceedings against you. We seek nothing from you other than for you to obey the Court and cease the cyber-harassment. If you persist, there will be a hearing and the Trust will seek all available relief from the Court.

EXCLUSIVE BOCA RATON — Close Donald Trump friend Mitch Huhem, an entrepreneur and motivational speaker who had seven children, was found dead in his Boca Raton mansion Tuesday night.

Authorities believe Huhem, 45, shot himself in the head with a handgun in his garage at St. Andrews Country Club.

The Palm Beach County Medical Examiner's Office confirmed Huhem's body was brought in for an autopsy performed early Wednesday. The results have not been made public.

But Palm Beach County Sheriff's Spokeswoman Teri Barbera confirmed investigators believe Huhem indeed committed suicide.

Huhem, who became a self-made millionaire at 26, wrote in his online bio he was the first to get presidential candidate Donald Trump before the public as a business seminar speaker.

Huhem got Trump to speak on the topic financial freedom.

Why aren't West Palm Beach's out-of-town corporate media reporting this? They got no sources! Good thing we do: Isn't it time you click here to subscribe to our daily news alerts?

Publicly, Huhem seemed to have it all, and not just because he had a beautiful wife and enough kids to build a basketball team.

He ran a successful seminar company that taught folks how to become millionaires. The company, MIT or Millionaires in Training, once conducted 1,600 seminars a year in 638 U. S. cities.

Huhem claimed he offered investment advice to presidents, Olympic athletes, celebrities, captains of industry and national heroes.

Huhem also specialized in multi-level marketing. Early in life, according to his bio, he built and managed a direct sales organization of 600,00 distributors in 22 countries that collectively brought in $480 million.

In private, however, Huhem may have been struggling — and not able to live up to his glowing claims.

Public records in Orlando, where he owned a modest suburban house, show Huhem and a business partner defaulted on a $2 million-loan and owed a bank nearly $3 million with interests and fees.

According to Orange County records, he was accused of stalking a woman who was not his wife in 2013.

The woman's request for a stay-away order was denied by a judge.

Here was Huhem in one of his motivational gigs:

Many people suspect that those who teach seminars and writes books make more money off of telling others what they can't apply to their own lives. Which questions the value of what they offer. As Johnnie Cochran was so fond of saying "those who can't do it teach it."

1Ronald...Why would you ever quote J. Cochran? He did neither. Is his legacy the legacy you would want to leave? Not me!. Is this what you would tell your children? Or, maybe a better alternative would be to tell them that there are mentors out there who have helped millions of people accomplish their dreams by guiding them along the way. These men and women (Richard Branson, sports coaches, Chefs, Parents, Shark Tank) and many more like these have changed others lives. Obviously, you have not experienced success or you wouldn't be talking like a loser. There is a wealth of knowledge obtained from reading. Try it.

There are Users and Losers in every industry and walk of life. However, there are many more Givars and Winners to teach others to be the same!

Believe in a Full Glass. Not just a Half Full Glass (or worse yet, half empty glass). Good Luck to you!

I knew Mitch's family growing up in San Diego. My heart goes out to them. I truly love Jackie (his mom) and her beautiful family, and I know she prayed for a long time hoping he'd turn his life around. Now he's gone on to the world of spirits where we can continue to pray that he refocus his efforts toward rekindling a relationship with Jesus Christ and our Father in Heaven.

February 27, 2016 at 8:40 am

This is a tragic story for the family. The family has been blindaied by "Mr Millionaire Success" because he has told them for years that he could do anything he set his mind to. I personally don't love "job coaches, life coaches, tv televangelists, etc" as they get people to grasp at everything they say....."for a nominal fee of course." Be wary of those that tout success despite having no tools for the job except their sales pitch.

Boca Raton is a magnet for folks that want to appear successful. St Andrews is full of people like this, the house he died in was a shrina to "Boca Bigger is Better" though most would see it as a gaudy 23 year old box decorated by the spirit of Liberace.

I find it sickening that so many people feel they have the right to judge this great man when they do not even know him. I do know him and know that he was everything that he taught or claimed to be. I also know his wonderful family and how dare anyone feel they have the right to slander Mitch in this time of morning. Wouldn't we all like to have his legacy and be as generous as he was to his family and the world! This is a tremendous loss and I do not believe that it was a suicide.

I knew Mitch very well. His words and speeches didn't match his own behavior. It's sad that he's gone, but let's not place him on a pedestal. This is terrible. He was as "normal" as the rest of us. The "conspiracy" stuff is nonsense from those trying to find meaning in tragedy. He made terrible mistakes. It's unfortunate for his children and wife that this was his last. I hope the best for his family.

I find it hard if not impossible to believe that Mitch Huhem would have committed suicide. I believe it was foul play. I also suggest before you post something negative about a man who can no longer speak for himself, you think long and hard what you would want said about you after you die. My husband and I were blessed to know Mitch. The training he provided was invaluable and I will always feel blessed for having known him. I pray for his family as I can only imagine what they are going through right now.

This man was not a good person, nor did he became successful by positive means. I have known of him for a very long time, from before he even started doing his pep talks. (one of which was at a Jr high where I was at, likely at the beginning of his talking career, from a time I remember of him having pictures of helicopters in his home because it was his goal to own one, showing the appearance of money when he had the opposite) and the rumors and stories about this man and the things he subjected his 1st wife and kids to are terrible. Rumors of abuse and later harassment by sending nude photos of the upgrade wife to the ex? Gloating that his new wife had a perfect body and was better at sexual acts? All of these "private", evil and degenerate things he did eventually did get out, many people... an entire community knew about them. Trust me, he had many reasons to commit suicide and honestly? It's well deserved.

Mitch Always Went Above and Beyond

Mitchell B. Huhem

At the age of 9, Mitch Huhem, born in Brooklyn, New York and raised in San Diego, California, learned from his parents as the oldest of five children, that nothing was given – everything was earned. That seminal understanding inspired Mitch to declare himself, as a fourth grader, an official “entrepreneur.”

His first project was to craft an “irresistible offer” where he would take out and put away all the neighborhood trash cans for 25 cents a week, diligently sweeping up any trash and making the experience seamless and delightful for his customers. He learned one thing very quickly: you may get paid for what you’ve charged, but you get tipped for what you’ve earned! That lesson was not lost on such a brilliant student: go above and beyond, and amazing things happen!

Entrepreneurship at a young age was combined with a penchant for leadership. When Mitch Huhem was just 12 years old, he organized as an Eagle Scout Program dozens of business owners and hundreds of people to convert a dilapidated and dangerous city park into one of the nicest and safest parks for children in San Diego. Under Mitch’s direction, in just four days, individuals of all ages transformed an entire 10-acre park to serve the needs of the community.

Before he was even 18, he led his high school as senior class president, valedictorian, and prom king. Upon graduation, Mitch attended Brigham Young University on a full academic scholarship and went on to receive many more awards and accolades while there.

At the age of 22, Mitch won first place in BYU’s prestigious Marriott School of Management Business Plan Contest. Just a year later, he was awarded BYU’s top Young Entrepreneur of the State of Utah. By age 26, Mitch was a self-made millionaire starting multiple companies that produced hundreds of millions of dollars of sales and tens of thousands of successful students across the country.

The professional career which followed was no less formidable. Over the next 20 years, as a fully committed entrepreneur, Mitch amassed a direct sales organization of over 500,000 distributors in 22 countries that collectively had sales of over $480,000,000 at their peak; owned and operated a financial seminar business – the one which brought Donald Trump to national attention for the very first time – from a start-up to $220,000,000 in just seven years; and consulted with companies across the country who sought out his expertise in marketing, sales and motivation.

Despite the enormous success of Mitch’s business and investment endeavors, Mitch was a man of deeply held convictions, a lifelong philanthropist, a champion of free enterprise, and a devout Christian who was committed to elevate the human spirit and promote goodness and exemplary character each and every day of his life.

Mitch resided in Boca Raton, Florida, the home of his choice, and passed away at the age of 45 on February 23rd. He leaves behind his wife, Deborah, and an extended family which includes a combined seven children. He was a loving husband, father, brother, and son. He loved God. And he loved people.

Mitch will be remembered at a private graveside service followed by a celebration of life on Sunday. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to Christ for All Nations or WithOneAccord.org.
